Annual Report 2023

Letter from the Treasurer

As Illinois State Treasurer, I have made it my mission to help people invest in themselves and their family's future. With college savings, that means making it easier and less expensive to open an account. Under my watch, we slashed fees by more than half and ensured that families can open an account with Bright Start or Bright Directions, the state's highly rated 529s, with no minimum contribution, no minimum balance, and no account fees.

Thanks to these changes, as of June 30, 2023, the Illinois 529 programs have more than doubled with over $17 billion in assets and more than 800,000 accounts. Our office is constantly working to better help families save for their child's education. That's why I'm proud to present our first annual report about Illinois First Steps, a new college savings starter program that provides a one-time $50 seed deposit into the Illinois 529 college savings accounts of children born or adopted to Illinois residents.

Illinois First Steps launched on January 1, 2023 and saw families make claims within the first weeks. The program was made possible due to the Illinois General Assembly setting aside $2.5 million to establish a college savings incentive program. Illinois First Steps helps place families on a path to start planning early for their child's education. Saving now means money for their child's future university, community college, trade school, or apprenticeship will be available when that child is ready to pursue additional education or training.

In today's economy, good paying jobs almost always require some form of training beyond high school: apprenticeships in trade school, vocational programs at a local community college, or a degree from a four-year university or college.

Unfortunately, we also know that postsecondary education and vocational training is increasingly more expensive.

To help all Illinois families start saving for their child's future education, the state of Illinois now provides all children born or adopted on or after January 1, 2023 a $50 seed deposit when they open an Illinois 529 college savings account through Bright Start or Bright Directions.

With Illinois First Steps, we want to ensure Illinois families from all backgrounds know that our state is invested in their child's future. We also want to encourage families to start saving as early as possible, so that their invested money might grow as their child grows.

This issue is personal to me: I was born and raised in Gifford, Illinois (pop. 975) as a child of a Teamster truck driver and a university secretary and AFSCME member. I was the first in my family to attend college, and at first, we didn't even think I could afford to go. I graduated from Yale with what seemed like a staggering amount of debt. It's also why I first ran for office: no one should have to give up their college dream because they can't afford it.

My wife Erica and I welcomed the arrival of our twin sons last year. I am now the proud father of Max, Theo, and my daughter Ella. I want them to grow up knowing they can pursue higher education, which is why I've set up Bright Start 529 accounts for each of them to save for their future. Since we launched Illinois First Steps, approximately 1,200 families have joined me in opening a college savings account in the first six months of their child's life. Parents can claim their $50 Illinois First Steps seed deposit before their child's 10th birthday. As such, in the coming years, my office is determined to help all Illinois parents start saving.

Going forward, we want to make sure all Illinois families know of and claim their $50 deposit through Illinois First Steps. We're working to get the word out by sending postcards and letters to all Illinois parents who had a baby on or after January 1, 2023, educating financial advisors, going out to community events, and working with community-based organizations throughout the state. We want to be an investment partner to all Illinois parents because we believe that people are our state's greatest asset. We look forward to being a first step for parents saving for their children's future education.

Sincerely,

Michael W. Frerichs
Illinois State Treasurer

Executive Summary

Through Illinois First Steps, all Illinois children born or adopted on or after January 1, 2023, became eligible for a one-time $50 seed deposit into an Illinois 529 college savings account. To claim the seed funding, parents or legal guardians of eligible children must open an Illinois Bright Start or Bright Directions 529 college savings account before the child's 10th birthday and submit a claim for the $50 seed deposit during the enrollment process. To ensure families are informed of their eligibility, the Illinois State Treasurer's Office notifies all parents of eligible children through one or more mailings about Illinois First Steps and the process to claim their $50 starter deposit.

The State Treasurer's Office launched Illinois First Steps on January 1, 2023, and began to receive data on Illinois births in the second quarter of 2023. The State Treasurer publicly announced the Illinois First Steps program and started to notify eligible parents in the summer of 2023.

- Nearly 1,200 Illinois residents claimed and received their Illinois First Steps deposit.
- 94% of claimants deposited their own funds in addition to the initial seed deposit.
- The Illinois First Steps program disbursed $59,700 to Illinois residents' Bright Start and Bright Directions accounts in the first half of 2023 to jump start families' college savings.

A primary goal of Illinois First Steps is to encourage parents to start saving for higher education early in their child's life. When it comes to saving for postsecondary education, the ideal would be for all parents to start saving at (or perhaps even before) the birth of a child. For many reasons, parents often start saving much later.

Before the launch of Illinois First Steps:

- The mean child age at which a parent opened an Illinois 529 college savings account for their child was 7.9 years and the median age was 5 years.

Following the first six months of Illinois First Steps:

- The mean child age at which a parent opened an Illinois 529 account had dropped to 7.8 years and the median age declined to 4 years — implying the program may have meaningfully encouraged parents to start saving earlier than they historically have been.

The Illinois State Treasurer's Office remains dedicated to building awareness about all of its programs, including its college savings initiatives.

- The State Treasurer's Civic Engagement team delivered information about Illinois First Steps at 248 community events across Illinois, through June 30, 2023. These events included engagements at public libraries, community centers, chambers of commerce, county health departments, and veterans' drop-in centers.

In this initial phase during the first half of 2023, we've already seen the impact Illinois First Steps has had to help place families on the path to saving early for their child's future education and look forward to continuous growth in the coming years.

Illinois 529 Plans: Bright Start & Bright Directions

The Illinois State Treasurer's Office serves as the Trustee and Administrator of two higher education savings plans to help Illinois families save for post-secondary education: Bright Start and Bright Directions. Both options are tax-advantaged investment plans enabling parents to save money for their children's future education expenses. Bright Start is a direct plan that individuals can sign up for and manage on their own, while Bright Directions is a plan that can only be accessed through a financial advisor. Both plans allow Illinois families to save while taking advantage of great federal and state tax benefits, such as:

- Tax deductible contributions for Illinois taxpayers (up to $10,000 for individuals and $20,000 for joint filers)
- Tax-deferred earnings while invested in the plans
- Tax-free withdrawals, when used for a qualified higher education expense (including tuition, required fees, books, supplies, room and board, and other expenses)

With college costs continuing to rise, the Illinois State Treasurer is proud to offer plans that are flexible and accessible to all savers. When savers open a Bright Start or Bright Directions account, they benefit from:

- No annual fees
- No required minimum or ongoing contributions
- Flexible usage for higher education, including trade schools, vocational schools, apprenticeship programs, community colleges, 4-year institutions, and graduate schools across Illinois, throughout the United States, and in dozens of countries abroad.

Treasurer Frerichs has worked to reduce plan fees and ensure more investment dollars go directly to college savings. Since 2015, the fee changes implemented by Treasurer Frerichs have saved families more than $100 million.

The State Treasurer's Office also works to make the plans among the highest-quality college savings plans in the country. In recent years, reviewers Morningstar, Forbes, and Savingforcollege.com have all recognized Bright Start and Bright Directions as among the best 529 plans in the country.

Treasurer Frerichs' focus on quality and low cost has helped the plans grow from $7 billion in assets in 2015 to over $17 billion in assets as of June 30, 2023.

Launch of Illinois First Steps, a Children's Savings Account

Children's Savings Accounts, or CSAs, are long-term savings or investment accounts that provide incentives for young children to build savings for postsecondary education. CSAs have grown in popularity across the United States as research has confirmed their value. For example, research has shown that having a children's savings account dedicated to postsecondary education raises children's educational expectations about themselves.¹ Additionally, participating in a CSA program can improve children's social-emotional development and academic achievement.^{2,3} Overall, children who have a college savings account are approximately three times more likely to attend college.⁴

⁵ Prosperity Now

Given these outcomes, government and nonprofit entities have continued to launch CSA programs to invest in children's future education. These accounts typically offer seed deposits ranging from $20 to $500 to assist with savings and to encourage individuals to open an account. As of December 2022, 4.9 million U.S. children had a Children's Savings Account across 128 programs in 38 states and DC.⁵

Illinois First Steps: The First Six Months

Illinois residents became eligible and could submit claims for Illinois First Steps on January 1, 2023. The Illinois Department of Health shared data on Illinois births with the State Treasurer’s Office in the second quarter of 2023. Once data was reviewed and program data flows tested, Treasurer Michael Frerichs officially announced the Illinois First Steps program on July 31, 2023.

The first half of 2023 is considered to be the “initial phase” of Illinois First Steps. This report includes Bright Start and Bright Direction account information for Fiscal Year 2023, which concluded on June 30, 2023. In the first half of 2023, 1,194 Illinois residents claimed and received their Illinois First Steps deposit. In total, the Illinois First Steps program disbursed $59,700 to Illinois residents’ Bright Start and Bright Directions accounts in the first half of 2023 to jump start families’ college savings.

To compare enrollment across geographies, the Illinois State Treasurer’s Office utilized five different regions of the state delineated by the Illinois Department of Human Services (IDHS). Each region represents an aggregation of multiple Illinois counties, with the exception of Region 1, which solely represents Cook County. Of the 1,194 Illinois residents who claimed their Illinois First Steps deposit,

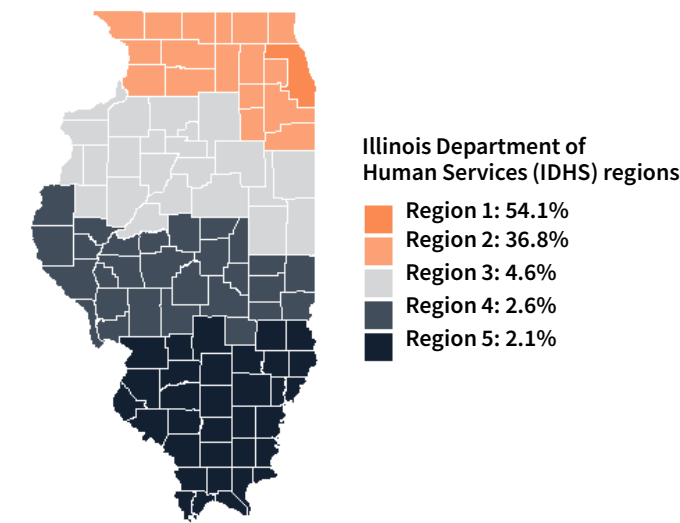

54.1% of claimants reside in Region 1, 36.8% reside in Region 2, 4.6% reside in Region 3, 2.6% reside in Region 4, and 2.1% reside in Region 5.¹

The Illinois State Treasurer’s Office will continue to track metrics for program success as the Illinois First Steps program continues to grow. To compare accurately between years, aggregate data, such as the total number of Bright Start and Bright Directions accounts, is separated between the first two and latter two quarters of each fiscal year.

- In the first half of 2023, 20,355 individuals opened a Bright Start or Bright Directions account, compared to a previous 4-year mean of 25,683.
- Of these account openings, 12,190 individuals opened a Bright Start account and 8,165 individuals opened a Bright Directions account. The proportional comparison between Bright Start and Bright Directions is similar to previous years, as Bright Start accounted for 59.9% of account openings in the first half of 2023 and 60.5% of total account openings between 2019 and 2022.
- At the end of 2022 there was a combined total of almost 45,000 new accounts from both Bright Start and Bright Directions.
